

INTERIOR DESIGN®

JULY 2016

the height of cool

ON THE COVER

A screen of spray-painted extruded aluminum slats projected with date, time, and stock-market data dominates a lobby at Maike Group in Xi'an, China, a collaboration between Hallucinate Design Office and Interdesign Associates. Photography: Javier Callejas.

FEATURES

132 ROCK ON

by Edie Cohen

An Italian hill town gets a new groove at Manca Studio's La Dimora di Metello.

140 PACIFIC HAMPTON

by Craig Kellogg

For her own weekend house, Sharon Bonnemazou enlisted the help of a fellow Californian, Cass Calder Smith.

150 WHERE IMAGINATION SOARS

by Rebecca Lo

A firm named Hallucinate dreamed up the interiors at China's Maike Group towers by Interdesign Associates.

158 THAT'S WHAT FRIENDS ARE FOR

by Edie Cohen

Plant Food + Wine, a Miami restaurant by Rene Gonzalez, is another unforgettable space for a longtime client.

166 WORTH THE TRIP

by Georgina McWhirter

Hotels around the world offer singular attractions.

180 ILLUSION VERSUS REALITY

by Alex Bozickovic

It's hard to tell the difference at this Toronto house by Paul Raff.

