

TIME

GENERAL
JOHN KELLY
TRUMP'S
LAST BEST
HOPE

BY MICHAEL DUFFY

9 771064 030005

2 | Conversation
4 | For the Record

The Brief

News from the U.S. and around the world

5 | Tensions with North Korea near a full boil

7 | A controversial proposal for the U.S. strategy in Afghanistan

8 | Ian Bremmer grades Secretary of State Rex Tillerson

9 | Facts vs. alternative facts

10 | An insurgency stirs in Venezuela

The View

Ideas, opinion, innovations

15 | A total solar eclipse could provide unity for a divided nation

18 | The power of microgrids: why small-scale energy grids are increasingly popular

19 | New research on bird brains reveals clues about the inner workings of human brains

20 | Greening China's Kubuqi Desert

The Features

Call of Duty

Newly installed as White House chief of staff, retired General John Kelly is bringing a dose of military discipline to the West Wing

By Michael Duffy 22

A Cancer Breakthrough

A revolutionary gene therapy can convert the body's own cells into cancer-destroying agents

By Alice Park 28

The King's Long Legacy

Forty years after Elvis Presley's death, the icon's rise, fall and rebirth offers a window on America

By Jon Meacham 34

Time Off

What to watch, read, see and do

43 | Aubrey Plaza steps out in Ingrid Goes West

46 | A new documentary on the Ferguson protests

48 | TV: New family comedy Atypical; the return of Difficult People

49 | Novelist Tom Perrotta's Mrs. Fletcher

51 | Susanna Schrobsdorff: curb your nostalgia

52 | 8 Questions for Jeff Flake, the GOP Senator taking aim at the President

^ In the bathroom of his suite at the Warwick Hotel, Elvis Presley checks his hair in a mirror as he prepares for his appearance on CBS's Stage Show on March 17, 1958, in Manhattan

Photograph by Alfred Wertheimer—Getty Images

ON THE COVER: Photograph by Mike Morones—Military Times